I Read the following passage carefully and answer the questions that follow:

Arun Gandhi was just 16 years old when he drove his father to a town to attend a meeting, 30 km away from home. While waiting for his father, he had his car repaired and found he had ample time left on hand. Slipping into a theatre to while away the time, he got deeply engrossed in the film and when he finally looked at his watch, he realized that he was thirty minutes late. He rushed to his father who was waiting anxiously for him. As an excuse for his delay, he told his father that the repair work had taken longer than expected. Arun's father knew that his son was lying for he had already contacted the garage. However, he did not scold Arun because he felt that he was at fault for not giving his son enough confidence to tell the truth. He told Arun that he wished to walk alone for a while. For almost four hours he walked while Arun followed in the car. There were no street lights and the road was rough. When Arun saw the agony his father was going through because of his lie, he realized his mistake. If his father had scolded him he wouldn't have taken it too seriously. But now he knew what he had done and decided never to lie again.

II Read the following poem and answer the questions that follow.

A grandmother has a special talent -
She always knows just what to do
To make her grand children happy
And to show she loves them, too.

At the family get – togethers,
She's the first person to look for-
She can entertain small children for hours
And they always keep asking for more.

You can tell when a grandmother's teasing
By the twinkle that shines in her eyes-
She's an expert at settling problems,
For she's loving, patient and wise.

Her grand children always admire her,
Even when they are grown –
They always feel proud and happy
To claim Grandmother as their own!
