| 46 - : | 50. Read the following | passage. | | | | |
| | The water cycle is an exciting and continuous process. Water cycle is the movement of water in the environment by evaporation, condensation, and precipitation. The warm sun causes water on the Earth to evaporate and rise up into the sky. The water vapours that are formed, cool during evaporation. This is what forms clouds that float in the sky. Clouds can be a mass of water droplets and / or ice particles. When the clouds get heavy enough, the water falls back to the earth. Condensation is the change of a gas, such as water vapours, into a liquid or solid. The water vapours must turn into a liquid or solid before it can fall to the earth. When the water falls back to the earth it is called precipitation. The water may fall as rain, snow, or hail. Plants in our environment also release water vapour into the atmosphere. When plants do this it is called transpiration. Now, answer the following questions. | | | | | |
