Read the story to answer the questions 8 to 19.

This story is one for all the boys and girls who love playing sport in the backyard. It is set in a back garden under the cool, spreading shade of a big mango tree. It describes all the chaos and disagreements that are typical of a children's cricket match. The stars of the show are Jenny, who catches the ball while she is pegging washing, and Bluey, the cattle dog, who steals the ball too.

We're standing in the shade of the mango tree,

Davo, Bob, Jacko, Tom and me.

The backyard's the pitch. A garbage bin's the wicket.

In the stinking summer heat, we're playing backyard cricket ...

Underneath the Mango tree.

Jacko's fielding where the sun meets the shade.

We're using a bat that my dad made.

Davo's at the crease. Tom's in the keeper's gloves.

My sister Jenny pegs washing, but it's cricket she loves ...

Underneath the Mango tree.

Bob's running in and bowling like Shane Warne.

Davo hits a six across the lawn.

He drives it to the fence, but Bluey nicks the ball.

We grab the thieving dog and it's an all in brawl...

Underneath the Mango tree.
